THIN AIR by Michelle Paver is an intricate, historically accurate account of a mountaineer haunting on Kangchenjunga, the third highest peak on earth. It definitely sets the tone of the day (circa 1935), and the author does an excellent job on breathing life and realism into the characters and landscape.

'Thin air' is set in 1935 and is about a group of English men climbing the Kanchenjunga a sacred mountain in the Himalayas. The descriptions of how the men and their Sherpa's set off and built their camps as they begin their ascent is well written - the attention to detail is particularly fascinating.
